Curriculum planning

The curriculum aims to cultivate children's interest in learning, establish positive values and attitudes, and achieve a comprehensive and balanced development

We will follow the "Kindergarten Education Curriculum Guide" (2017) to plan curriculum. Children of nursery classes will not be asked to write, and there will not be mechanical copying exercises and drills on calculation.

Learning / Teaching approach & activities

A child-oriented integrated curriculum that matches early childhood development characteristics, abilities, interests, needs and relevant life experiences of children, in which thematic teaching, group activities, project learning, simulation games, outdoor visits and more are organized for exploration on different subject matters. Lively and practical instruction stimulates active learning and enable children to thrive in a natural and pleasant environment.

The model of continuous assessment, together with individual learning portfolios set up for our children is based on a wide range of information to evaluate student performance in order to adjust their learning progress.
