Curriculum Details
Curriculum type : Local
Curriculum planning
We arrange an appropriate, comprehensive activity curriculum according to the guidelines of the Education Bureau for curriculum development. Our curriculum features the use of games across all aspects of children-centered learning, based on students' interests and life experience. We enable children to experience learning in person, so that they can learn happily, communicate skillfully, make bold innovations, and dare to undertake responsibilities. Our programme is designed to help children develop their unique potentials and gain balanced and all-round development in "morality, intelligence, physical ability, sociability, aesthetic feeling, and spirit". We will follow the "Kindergarten Education Curriculum Guide" (2017) to plan curriculum. Children of nursery classes will not be asked to write, and there will not be mechanical copying exercises and drills on calculation.
Learning / Teaching approach & activities
"The 'thematic' and 'project-based' approaches are the main modes of teaching. Other ways of learning include 'experimental' and 'mixed-age' approaches, which provide opportunities for children to acquire knowledge and gain different learning experiences through action and participation. Through cross-age interaction, children are led to guide their peers and attain the learning effect of mutual simulation. At LEGO®Education, we believe that hands-on learning can inspire students' interest in STEAM. By integrating fun and curriculum-relevant materials, we enable every child to succeed in education. Our English Curriculum, 'Gifted-Tour' (G - games, I - interactive, F - fun, T - talent, ED - education) is based on fables and dramatic play and includes a systematic synthetic phonics (SSP) programme. Through diversified learning activities and creative teaching materials, children's English listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills can be enhanced. Children who complete the course and pass the assignment will receive a certificate issued by The Training Qualification UK (TQUK)."
Assessment of children's learning experiences
