Curriculum planning

Based on the latest curriculum guidelines issued by the Education Bureau, our school curriculum is based on care, enlightenment and guidance which enables children to acquire knowledge in the Six Learning Areas, which are 'Language', 'Early Childhood Mathematics', 'Nature and Living', 'Physical Fitness and Health', 'Art and Creativity' and 'Self and Society'. Our curriculum is step by step, cultivate children's correct learning attitude.

We will follow the "Kindergarten Education Curriculum Guide" (2017) to plan curriculum. Children of nursery classes will not be asked to write, and there will not be mechanical copying exercises and drills on calculation.

Learning / Teaching approach & activities

Our school uses a variety of learning methods to teach, reset different games through LEGO bricks, inspire children's creativity, thinking, oral ability, and cooperation. It also uses stories and game activities to allow children to learn through self-exploration and strengthen children's moral education and understanding of Chinese culture. Our school has established Scout (Grasshopper), Marching bands, and Flag-guards, which cultivate children's team spirit and mutual cooperation. And the foreign language teachers taught the British Cambridge English learning course and Mandarin and learned bi-literate and trilingual since childhood.

Assessment of children's learning experiences

Ongoing observation, recording and analysis to assess children development and learning performance. In March 2001, our school was invited by the Education Bureau to be the first 20 "Quality Assurance Inspection" school, and our performance indicator is Excellent. It was selected by the Education Bureau as one of the quality kindergartens in Hong Kong. In January 2006, our school became the first 20 inspection schools for the "Quality Review for Kindergartens" again, and passed the assessment successfully. The related reports are be found in our school website or EDB website.
