Curriculum Details

Curriculum type : Local

Curriculum planning

Our school provides professional information and training on curriculum and teaching guided by educational psychologists. We design spiral-integrated, diverse, balanced and inspiring curriculum and activities to enrich and reinforce children's learning.

We will follow the "Kindergarten Education Curriculum Guide" (2017) to plan curriculum. Children of nursery classes will not be asked to write, and there will not be mechanical copying exercises and drills on calculation.

Learning / Teaching approach & activities

Our school's curriculum places emphasis on meeting the needs of children, and with appropriateness to daily living and the community, designs various levels of curriculum. Through methods such as storytelling, language, game teaching, free play, Montessori teaching philosophy, and systematic physical education, as well as creative aesthetics education that allows children to express their individuality, we inspire the overall development of children, and cultivate a proactive attitude towards learning and independence.

Assessment of children's learning experiences

Our school conducts ongoing observation, recording, and file analysis to assess children's development and learning. The assessment covers various aspects such as cognition, language, social skills, emotional development, and physical ability.

School Characteristics

School vision and mission

School Mission: Through the dissemination of caring culture and positive messages to families and communities, our school values the establishment of a highly interactive partnership between parents and schools to enhance the holistic development of children. School Vision: Our school is committed to providing children with a safe and appropriate learning environment and curriculum, continuously improving our assessment system, observing children's comprehensive development in terms of morality, knowledge, physical fitness, emotions, and arts, and fostering excellent future generations.

Support to students

Our school has a team of educational psychologists, therapists, and registered social workers who provide professional input for curriculum and teaching, as well as offer specialized information and guidance to children and parents in need. Special education teachers provide individualized education plans for children who require extra support.
