Curriculum Details

Curriculum type : Local

Curriculum planning

The child-centred curriculum is designed in accordance with young children's experiences, development and abilities using play and an integrated approach to help children attain full and balanced development in language, social, emotion, physical, cognitive domains, creativity and virtues of good citizenship.

We will follow the "Kindergarten Education Curriculum Guide" (2017) to plan curriculum. Children of nursery classes will not be asked to write, and there will not be mechanical copying exercises and drills on calculation.

Learning / Teaching approach & activities

We emphasize cognitive and motor development to stimulate potential of the main to lay the foundation for further learning. Whole language and project-based approaches are supported with various kinds of activities and group learning to help children develop active learning attitude and good listening, oral communication, reading and writing skills. We foster interests and habit of reading in their early years. Life skills training is provided through the routine schedule, including taking care of themselves, the environment and others as a way to develop autonomy, sense of responsibility and self-confidence.

Assessment of children's learning experiences

Quantitative assessment of learning and qualitative portfolios of learning processes are done through ongoing observation, sampling, record and analysis.

School Characteristics

School vision and mission
