Curriculum Details
Curriculum type : Local
Curriculum planning
A rich and diversified range of activities to suit young children's physical and mental development, aptitude and their interests in explore learning.
We will follow the "Kindergarten Education Curriculum Guide" (2017) to plan curriculum. Children of nursery classes will not be asked to write, and there will not be mechanical copying exercises and drills on calculation.
Learning / Teaching approach & activities
Through a life-oriented integrated learning model, through free play, life learning, character cultivation, theme learning and project learning, supplemented by life education courses and community contacts, children can observe, participate and explore in a pleasant learning environment. And interact with classmates to build the motivation and ability of young children to learn, and to discover the talent potential of individuals and classmates. Through reading programs, children can develop good reading habits from an early age, so as to stimulate children's interest in learning and cultivate positive learning attitudes, laying a good foundation for future study.
Assessment of children's learning experiences
Continuous observations of children's academic performance in the form of learning and development reports, learning portfolios subject learning assessment and children's works.
