Curriculum Details
Curriculum type : Non-local
Curriculum planning
Through careful observation, the Montessori Guides will guide each child as he enters into various special developmental periods, and provide relevant materials that feed his interest. Each child will experience explosive growth in the different areas of academic learning, at the exact moment when he is developmentally ready.
Learning / Teaching approach & activities
Our Guidepost Montessori prepared environment is supportive and inclusive. Children choose their work and work independently, with partners or in small groups, learning to set goals, challenge themselves, and tackle complex problems. Each child practices leadership and responsibility, playing a role as a mentor to younger students, caring for the school environment, and engaging meaningfully to resolve classroom issues. We take full advantage of the Montessori three-hour work cycle, where children choose and organize their own work. Children come to create, understand, structure, and iterate their learning goals - to work both independently and collaboratively - and to persist in difficult thinking and creative work.
Assessment of children's learning experiences
Guidepost Montessori follow a rigorous child-centred educational program that aims to actively observe each child, listening and actively responding to their questions, interests and stories. Each child at Guidepost Montessori is immersed in a dual-language environment with both an English and Mandarin guide supporting them; assessment through observation.

School Characteristics
School vision and mission
